Amanda Moore is a poet and essayist whose work has appeared in journals and anthologies including Best New Poets, ZYZZVA, and Catapult. As Poetry Editor for Women's Voices for Change, she has also published in-depth essays about extraordinary poems by women, with a special focus on contemporary poets such as Patricia Smith, Monica Youn, Joy Harjo, Ellen Bass, Molly Spencer, and others. She teaches high school English as well as private poetry classes for adults, and she also reads and edits for VIDA Review and Bull City Press. She's an avid ocean swimmer, making her home in the Outer Sunset neighborhood of San Francisco, with the Pacific just a few blocks away. Amanda's book, Requeening, won the 2020 National Poetry series and was selected by Ocean Vuong; it was also named in Oprah Magazine's 2021 Favorite Things issue. Phyllis Klein is a psychotherapist and poet living in Palo Alto, CA. Her work has appeared in numerous journals and anthologies including Chiron Review, Sweet, 3Elements, I-70, The Minnesota Review, and Gyroscope Review among many others. She was a finalist in the Sweet Poetry Contest, 2017, the Carolyn Forché Humanitarian Poetry Contest, 2019, and the Fischer Prize, 2019. She's been nominated for multiple Pushcart Prizes. Her new book, The Full Moon Herald from Grayson Books is a newspaper of poetry and won honorable mention in poetry for the Eric Hoffer Book Award, 2021. She loves to cook with farm fresh vegetables. During the Pandemic she has taken up exercising with Youtube, and started Poets Conversation as a way to get to know poets from all over the US and to cope with Pandemic isolation.
